

MULTI-DENOMINATIONAL ETHOS

TEACHING

No specific religion (faith) is taught during the school's official timetable as set by the Department of Education.

CROÍ NA SCOILE PROGRAMME

The Croí na Scoile programme which has been put together by school communities in collaboration with An Foras Pátrúnachta will be taught.

FAITH FORMATION CLASSES

It is the responsibility of the parents to make arrangements for the teaching of their children's religion outside of official school hours. The Board of Management and the school will be flexible in dealing with various classes and the Board will cater as much as possible to all of those groups outside of school hours.

Religious classes are taught exclusively through Irish outside of school hours.

The teaching staff will not be obliged to undertake this task themselves.

THE SCHOOL ETHOS

The Board of Management has an obligation to protect the school ethos in line with the aforementioned definition of a multi-denominational gaelscoil and the board is accountable to the patron for protecting it.
